

Papaver ‘Summer Breeze’

Selling

May to June

Features

Attractive orange, yellow or white flowers in Summer.

Benefits

A tidy, compact but versatile poppy. Can have between 35 – 100 flowers per plant in a season. An annual, but seeds and germinates readily for the following year.

Story

Papaver nudicale, or Icelandic Poppy is indigenous to Arctic regions of North America or Eurasia, and was named by botanists in 1759. This variety was bred for its versatility.

Basic Information

Plant type

Annual

Flowers

Orange, yellow or white flowers in Summer

Height after 4 years

30cm (12")

Spread after 4 years

20cm (8")

Position

Sunny position with well drained soil

Hardiness

Won't survive below 0°C